The person who dares to defy or be different is practically osmunism. Only some are caused tracized by even family and friends as an eccentric or worse. The "mink" has replaced the "mind" as a yardstick of acceptance in "better society."

> IN OUR GENERATION even ity to the pack, by the introduc-tion of the "welfare-state-idea" the something-for-nothing complex, whereby the frugal and hard working will support the less frugal and hard working.

Certain politicians keep sug-gesting higher and higher standards or living for "our people with the government making up the inevitable differences and deficiencies by higher and higher taxes. The masses so advised bid and scramble for hundred and one non-essential and superfluous gadgets and gimmicks which at best provide only fleeting pleasure or satisfaction at a dollar down and a dollar a week.

BUT BECAUSE the pack possesses these things they become a part of "modern-living" and quired to conform. But in the process of acquiring these fad-dish gadgets and things masses of people tend to lose their indi-viduality, their initiative, in favor of government regulation and decision. In turn politicians are forced to manipulate the economy in favor of the masses who

In this modern rat-race for material things too many men adopt the un-Christian attitude of take the hindmost. We tend to lose the qualities of charity, re-sponsibility and self control which help to build character and culture, and especially respect for others on the basis of what they are . . . not what they have.

AS A NATION we seem to be caught in treadmill in which our economic solvency depends upon government "defense" spending. Time and time again in recent years and months the possibility of peace and less armament spending has caused a severe stock market break and industry appear to tremble at the thought of any curtailment in government spending which will lead to loss of production

Even limited defense cutbacks, as evidenced in recent months, created a serious recession across the nation. One reason is that too many people are brain-washed into buying things on time they cannot afford . . . creating an economy sensitive to even normal economic adjust

THEORETICALLY, BUYING stimulates business and the eco-nomy booms. But when the value of an individual's equity in material possessions or his debts are so easily disturbed by the threat of peace, that individual is hog-tided to a war or defense conomy for his solvency.

This means that he will vote for politicians who will encour age more government spending the rich . . . who propose more and more social security at the expense of those who succeed, resulting in a socialist state.

CONFORMISM HAS been drummed into us by adver-tising and by government propa-ganda until the masses have gone on a spending spree far beyond their ability to justify un-der normal conditions. This created such inflation that salaries wages, savings and pensions lost half of their value.

This resulted in more govern ment spending and higher and higher wages, salaries, social security and pension payments. This forms an ever-growing link between "defense-spending" or government - spending and enational economic stability, which heretofore depended on normal business under free enterprise.

We should at least be aware of the price we pay for conformism We should recognize the danger-ous link between defense spending and economic solvency. We tising and mass-brainwashing doing to us and to our chil-n's future . . . and whether it is worth the dangerous gamble of Supervisors this week on the four changes which they had been asked to reconsider following a hearing Sept. 15 on a comprehen-sive zoning plan for the Indian Wells area, the Planning Commission recommended that two of the changes be allowed and two denied.

Board Aproves Indian Wells Zoning Plan

The supervisors approved adop-tion of the plan in accordance with the new planning commission recommendations except in one

THE COMMISSION had recon mended that a request by Henry Curran for commercial instead of R-3 zoning on the northeast and northwest corners of the Miles Avenue and Highway 111 inter-Supervisor George Berkey sug-gested that the northeast corner, which he described as "a little sliver severed by the extension of Avenue 45 (Miles Avenue), be designated as a CP (restricted commercial zone, and the other supervisors agreed with him.

BERKEY SAID THE C-P re strictive zone would permit the planning commission to control use of the property, since although it allows the same uses as the C-1 (general commercial) zone requested by Curran, it requires sub-mission of a plot plan and is subject to additional conditions.

The other request which was denied was that of Herald E. Williams for deletion of 20 acres in Section 14 of Township 5 South,

THE COMMISSIONERS said the acreage represents less than 20 per cent of his holdings in the area, most of which are outside the zoning plan area, and its inclusion should not result in any substantial hardship to the acreage left outside the plan.

New Insurance Question Faces School Board are today pondering a new puz-zler in the distribution of their school district fire insurance a mong resort area insurance

The board, which has faced nany insurance distribution prob lems in the past, must now decide if a firm with two offices may be regarded as two separate

IN THIS CASE, the firm is the Ray Lusby Insurance Agency, which maintains offices here and in Desert Hot Springs. Lusby asked the board to establish his DHS office as a separate agency to share in distribution of insur-

His Palm Springs agency is already participating in the insurance program, Schools Supt. Dwight Twist pointed out.

"I THINK WE'D better take "I THINK WE'D better take this up at our next policy meeting," said Acting Board President Charles Wallace. "This will require a good deal of study."

Board members agreed. The issue was passed to the next meeting.

Villagers Win Top Awards With Terriers

Villagers Allen and Stella Davis returned to Palm Springs with prize ribbons for two of their York-shire terriers from the Pasadena Kennel Club Dog Show.

Mrs. Davis also reported that a third prize was claimed by a terrier breeded in her kennel and owned by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Grove, of Palm Desert. The dog, Champion Chelsea of Ramon, was voted best of breed by show judges and also placed second in the toy group.

The Davises, breeders of cham-pionship terriers and owners of Ramon Modern Furnishings, said their Yorkshire, Little Sir This season Mrs. Markley will of Ramon, won over all males for also feature in her shop, a representative line of silver jewelry designed by the well known Palm Desert artist, Susie Cowling.

School District Hires Physician, Psychiatrist

the part-time services of a school district physician and a psychiatric consultant.

Board of Education members last night approved the part-time employment of Dr. Lee Palmer as physician and Dr. Marian Zonnis as psychiatric con-sultant, each at a salary of $1,000.

HOWEVER, BOARD members expressed their concern over the recommended employment of the psychiatric expert before passing on the order.

"Our students aren't, balanced, are they?" queried one member.

"No." replied Schools Supt.
Dwight Twist, "but psychiatric consultants are being used in more and more schools for guidmore and more schools for guidmore and more schools for guidmore and more schools for guidance problems of emotionally dis-turbed youngsters," he explained.

DR. TWIST POINTED out that the consultant will assist school personnel, offer diagnostic serv-ices for individual pupils and participate heavily in the guidance

"At least one out of every 10 adults now suffer from mental illness," Twist remarked. "This wouldn't be true if they had had guidance earlier."

Board of Education members agreed with the theory and unanimously voted approval of the employment of both the physical and mental medicos.
